

DR. L. S. OSBORNE, OF NEWARK, DIES

Prominent in Public Life and for Twenty-Two Years Rector of Trinity Church.

The Rev. Dr. Louis Shreve Osborne, for twenty-two years rector of Trinity Episcopal Church, in Newark, N. J., died suddenly yesterday in his home, at No. 6 Park Place, of heart failure, following an attack of asthma, which came upon him on Friday and which had been considered serious by his physician, or his family. He was in his sixty-first year and his death occurred just one day after the twenty-second anniversary of his first sermon in New York.

Dr. Osborne was widely known in the Eastern States. He was born October 10, 1851, in Salem, Mass., and was graduated from Harvard College in 1873, and the Divinity School at Philadelphia, in 1876. While in Philadelphia Dr. Osborne enjoyed the close friendship of the Rev. Dr. W. N. McVickar, rector of Holy Trinity Church, to which he was attached as assistant to the rector. Later he was called to the rectory of Grace Church, Sandusky, Ohio. In 1881 he was called to Trinity Church, one of the most important parishes in Chicago.

While there in 1888 he sought to gather into the parish those of humbler status than that of the greater part of his congregation. Trouble resulted from a wealthy and powerful element in his church and several members of the vestry resigned. Dr. Osborne, however, would not recede from his position. When he realized that the division of sentiment would work harm to the whole parish he resigned, took his family abroad and lived for six months near Edinburgh, Scotland. The vestry of Trinity Church in 1889 took the unusual course of calling Dr. Osborne to the pulpit without having seen him or heard him preach. He sent his acceptance from Scotland.

The interest in civic matters which he early developed continued until his death and he was a potent factor in all movements for the betterment of municipal conditions. He was active in charitable organizations, a member of St. John's Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons; a retired president of the Harvard Club of New Jersey and deeply interested in the Men and Religion Forward Movement, which will be started in Newark to-day. His wife, who was Miss Maria Ashburner, of Philadelphia, died in 1889. He is survived by one son and two daughters. The funeral will be held in Trinity Church at three o'clock to-morrow afternoon, Bishop S. Lines, of Newark, officiating.

OBITUARY.

CAPTAIN JAMES J. McDONOUGH.

Captain James J. McDonough, former officer in the British army and one of the best known cricketers in the country, died yesterday in the Pennsylvania Hospital, Philadelphia, from a blood clot on the brain supposed to have been received years ago when he was thrown from a horse. Captain McDonough, who was forty years old, represented the United States cricketers against Canada in 1909, and the same year he visited Bermuda with the Philadelphia team. He served with distinction in the Royal Artillery, saw service in Egypt and went through the Boer war.

Obituary Notes.

Dr. George Freeling, a prominent member of the Clover Club and considered one of the most witty of Philadelphia after dinner speakers, died suddenly at his home, No. 1,229 West Venango street, Philadelphia, Friday night. He was a member of the staff of the Wilkes Eye Hospital and was well known as a specialist.

Mr. C. Orvis Brown, treasurer of the Genesee County (N. Y.) Republican Committee, died in Rochester yesterday at the age of forty-seven. He was town clerk for two terms.

Mr. Charles A. Royce, for several years in the employ of Pearson's Magazine, died on Friday at his home, No. 44 East Fourth street, Brooklyn. He was twenty-two years old.

Mr. Albert H. Frost, president of the Frost Veneer Sealing Company, of No. 28 Canal street, died yesterday at his home, No. 25 West Seventy-fourth street, of spinal injuries suffered three weeks ago in a fall. Mr. Frost was fifty-eight years old. He left a widow and one son.

Mr. John H. Johnson, who for thirty years was in the employ of the Hanover National Bank, Manhattan, died on Friday at his home, No. 158 Rutland road, Brooklyn, of heart trouble. Mr. Johnson was the secretary of the Bankers' Building and Loan Association. He was fifty-eight years old.

Captain Samuel Russel Dummer, of No. Alpine street, Newark, a veteran of both the Mexican and the Civil wars, died of pneumonia in St. James' Hospital, that city, yesterday. He was born in 1835, the son of a Mayor of Jersey City. He left a widow and two sons.

Mr. Michael F. Dooley died at his home, No. 21 West Twenty-sixth street, Bayonne, N. J., yesterday. He was for more than thirty years general supervisor of the cabinet department, for the Singer Sewing Machine Company.

Mrs. Rachel Brown, one of the first dry goods dealers in Bayonne, N. J., died yesterday at her home, No. 13 Cottage street, at the age of seventy-three. She had been in business forty years. She was a widow.

Mr. Benjamin H. Dillmore, formerly commissary sergeant of the Home for Disabled Soldiers, at eKarny, N. J., died yesterday at the home of Mr. William A. Robb, No. 33 Chestnut street, Arlington, N. J. He was sixty-four years old.

The Rev. Horace W. Byrnes, who held

SPECIAL NOTICES.

"77"

Humphreys' Seventy-Seven Breaks up Colds and

GRIP

"Seventy-Seven" knocks out the Grip—
"Seventy-Seven" breaks up a Cold that hangs on—It is hard to distinguish between Grip and a hard Cold—nor is it necessary, for "Seventy-Seven" is equally good for both—

The main thing is to keep it handy, carry it during the bad weather, and take a dose at the first chill or shiver—don't wait till the Cough and Sore Throat set in—

A small vial of pleasant pellets, fits the vest pocket. At Drug Stores 25c. or mailed.

Humphreys' Homeo. Medicine Co., Cor. William and Ann Streets, New York.

MR. H. L. STORKE DIES OF PNEUMONIA

Associate of Mr. Thomas A. Edison and Others in the Organization of Telephone Systems.

Mr. Henry L. Storke, one of the best known telephone men in the State of New York, died of pneumonia at his home, No.
438 West 116th street, yesterday. Mr.
Storke contracted a cold a few days ago and complications arose which, owing to his advanced age, his vitality could not conquer.

Mr. Storke was born in Seneca, N. Y., in 1841, and after leaving school he engaged in the publishing business in Auburn, N.
Y., where, in 1859, he was publisher of the Advertiser and Mining News. In that year the commercial value of the telephone was recognized by him and he became assistant general manager of the telephone lines of the Western Telephone Company.

With Mr. Theodore N. Vail, Mr. Thomas
A. Edison and Mr. Oscar E. Madden Mr.
Storke in 1880 organized the first telephone company operating in Chili and Peru, which subsequently was sold to an English syndicate and is now one of the largest telephone systems in South America. He thereafter was active in the promotion of numerous telephone companies. He organized the Central New York Telephone Company at Utica, the Telephone Company of Missouri and the National Telephone Exchange Association. In 1893 he was appointed Postmaster of Auburn, N. Y., by President Cleveland, a post he held until 1898.

Mr. Storke retired from active work in 1902, but he retained executive offices with various companies. He is survived by a widow, Mrs. Mary Beatrice Smith Storke,
three sons and five daughters.

Mr. Storke was active in the promotion of numerous telephone companies. He or-
ganized the Central New York Telephone
Company at Utica, the Telephone Company of Missouri and the National Telephone Exchange Association. In 1893 he
was appointed Postmaster of Auburn,
N. Y., by President Cleveland, a post he
held until 1898.

Mr. Storke retired from active work in 1902, but he retained executive offices with
various companies. He is survived by a
widow, Mrs. Mary Beatrice Smith Storke,
three sons and five daughters.

Mr. Storke was active in the promotion of
numerous telephone companies. He or-
ganized the Central New York Telephone
Company at Utica, the Telephone Company of Missouri and the National Telephone Exchange Association. In 1893 he
was appointed Postmaster of Auburn,
N. Y., by President Cleveland, a post he
held until 1898.

Mr. Storke retired from active work in 1902, but he retained executive offices with
various companies. He is survived by a
widow, Mrs. Mary Beatrice Smith Storke,
three sons and five daughters.

Mr. Storke was active in the promotion of
numerous telephone companies. He or-
ganized the Central New York Telephone
Company at Utica, the Telephone Company of Missouri and the National Telephone Exchange Association. In 1893 he
was appointed Postmaster of Auburn,
N. Y., by President Cleveland, a post he
held until 1898.

Mr. Storke retired from active work in 1902, but he retained executive offices with
various companies. He is survived by a
widow, Mrs. Mary Beatrice Smith Storke,
three sons and five daughters.

Mr. Storke was active in the promotion of
numerous telephone companies. He or-
ganized the Central New York Telephone
Company at Utica, the Telephone Company of Missouri and the National Telephone Exchange Association. In 1893 he
was appointed Postmaster of Auburn,
N. Y., by President Cleveland, a post he
held until 1898.

Mr. Storke retired from active work in 1902, but he retained executive offices with
various companies. He is survived by a
widow, Mrs. Mary Beatrice Smith Storke,
three sons and five daughters.

Mr. Storke was active in the promotion of
numerous telephone companies. He or-
ganized the Central New York Telephone
Company at Utica, the Telephone Company of Missouri and the National Telephone Exchange Association. In 1893 he
was appointed Postmaster of Auburn,
N. Y., by President Cleveland, a post he
held until 1898.

Mr. Storke retired from active work in 1902, but he retained executive offices with
various companies. He is survived by a
widow, Mrs. Mary Beatrice Smith Storke,
three sons and five daughters.

Mr. Storke was active in the promotion of
numerous telephone companies. He or-
ganized the Central New York Telephone
Company at Utica, the Telephone Company of Missouri and the National Telephone Exchange Association. In 1893 he
was appointed Postmaster of Auburn,
N. Y., by President Cleveland, a post he
held until 1898.

Mr. Storke retired from active work in 1902, but he retained executive offices with
various companies. He is survived by a
widow, Mrs. Mary Beatrice Smith Storke,
three sons and five daughters.

Mr. Storke was active in the promotion of
numerous telephone companies. He or-
ganized the Central New York Telephone
Company at Utica, the Telephone Company of Missouri and the National Telephone Exchange Association. In 1893 he
was appointed Postmaster of Auburn,
N. Y., by President Cleveland, a post he
held until 1898.

Mr. Storke retired from active work in 1902, but he retained executive offices with
various companies. He is survived by a
widow, Mrs. Mary Beatrice Smith Storke,
three sons and five daughters.

Mr. Storke was active in the promotion of
numerous telephone companies. He or-
ganized the Central New York Telephone
Company at Utica, the Telephone Company of Missouri and the National Telephone Exchange Association. In 1893 he
was appointed Postmaster of Auburn,
N. Y., by President Cleveland, a post he
held until 1898.

Mr. Storke retired from active work in 1902, but he retained executive offices with
various companies. He is survived by a
widow, Mrs. Mary Beatrice Smith Storke,
three sons and five daughters.

Mr. Storke was active in the promotion of
numerous telephone companies. He or-
ganized the Central New York Telephone
Company at Utica, the Telephone Company of Missouri and the National Telephone Exchange Association. In 1893 he
was appointed Postmaster of Auburn,
N. Y., by President Cleveland, a post he
held until 1898.

Mr. Storke retired from active work in 1902, but he retained executive offices with
various companies. He is survived by a
widow, Mrs. Mary Beatrice Smith Storke,
three sons and five daughters.

Mr. Storke was active in the promotion of
numerous telephone companies. He or-
ganized the Central New York Telephone
Company at Utica, the Telephone Company of Missouri and the National Telephone Exchange Association. In 1893 he
was appointed Postmaster of Auburn,
N. Y., by President Cleveland, a post he
held until 1898.

Mr. Storke retired from active work in 1902, but he retained executive offices with
various companies. He is survived by a
widow, Mrs. Mary Beatrice Smith Storke,
three sons and five daughters.

Mr. Storke was active in the promotion of
numerous telephone companies. He or-
ganized the Central New York Telephone
Company at Utica, the Telephone Company of Missouri and the National Telephone Exchange Association. In 1893 he
was appointed Postmaster of Auburn,
N. Y., by President Cleveland, a post he
held until 1898.

Mr. Storke retired from active work in
1902, but he retained executive offices with
various companies. He is survived by a
widow, Mrs. Mary Beatrice Smith Storke,
three sons and five daughters.

Mr. Storke was active in the promotion of
numerous telephone companies. He or-
ganized the Central New York Telephone
Company at Utica, the Telephone Company of Missouri and the National Telephone Exchange Association. In 1893 he
was appointed Postmaster of Auburn,
N. Y., by President Cleveland, a post he
held until 1898.

Mr. Storke retired from active work in
1902, but he retained executive offices with
various companies. He is survived by a
widow, Mrs. Mary Beatrice Smith Storke,
three sons and five daughters.

Mr. Storke was active in the promotion of
numerous telephone companies. He or-
ganized the Central New York Telephone
Company at Utica, the Telephone Company of Missouri and the National Telephone Exchange Association. In 1893 he
was appointed Postmaster of Auburn,
N. Y., by President Cleveland, a post he
held until 1898.

Mr. Storke retired from active work in 1902, but he retained executive offices with
various companies. He is survived by a
widow, Mrs. Mary Beatrice Smith Storke,
three sons and five daughters.

MR. H. L. STORKE DIES OF PNEUMONIA

Associate of Mr. Thomas A. Edison
and Others in the Organization of Telephone Systems.

Mr. Henry L. Storke, one of the best known telephone men in the State of New York, died of pneumonia at his home, No.
438 West 116th street, yesterday. Mr.
Storke contracted a cold a few days ago
and complications arose which, owing to his advanced age, his vitality could not conquer.

Mr. Storke was born in Seneca, N. Y., in 1841, and after leaving school he engaged in the publishing business in Auburn, N.
Y., where, in 1859, he was publisher of
the Advertiser and Mining News. In that year the commercial value of the
telephone was recognized by him and he became assistant general manager of the telephone lines of the Western Telephone Company.

With Mr. Theodore N. Vail, Mr. Thomas
A. Edison and Mr. Oscar E. Madden Mr.
Storke in 1880 organized the first telephone
company operating in Chili and Peru,
which subsequently was sold to an English
syndicate and is now one of the largest telephone systems in South America. He
thereafter was active in the promotion of
numerous telephone companies. He or-
ganized the Central New York Telephone
Company at Utica, the Telephone Company of Missouri and the National Telephone Exchange Association. In 1893 he
was appointed Postmaster of Auburn,
N. Y., by President Cleveland, a post he
held until 1898.

Mr. Storke retired from active work in 1902, but he retained executive offices with
various companies. He is survived by a
widow, Mrs. Mary Beatrice Smith Storke,
three sons and five daughters.

Mr. Storke was active in the promotion of
numerous telephone companies. He or-
ganized the Central New York Telephone
Company at Utica, the Telephone Company of Missouri and the National Telephone Exchange Association. In 1893 he
was appointed Postmaster of Auburn,
N. Y., by President Cleveland, a post he
held until 1898.

Mr. Storke retired from active work in 1902, but he retained executive offices with
various companies. He is survived by a
widow, Mrs. Mary Beatrice Smith Storke,
three sons and five daughters.

Mr. Storke was active in the promotion of
numerous telephone companies. He or-
ganized the Central New York Telephone
Company at Utica, the Telephone Company of Missouri and the National Telephone Exchange Association. In 1893 he
was appointed Postmaster of Auburn,
N. Y., by President Cleveland, a post he
held until 1898.

Mr. Storke retired from active work in 1902, but he retained executive offices with
various companies. He is survived by a
widow, Mrs. Mary Beatrice Smith Storke,
three sons and five daughters.

Mr. Storke was active in the promotion of
numerous telephone companies. He or-
ganized the Central New York Telephone
Company at Utica, the Telephone Company of Missouri and the National Telephone Exchange Association. In 1893 he
was appointed Postmaster of Auburn,
N. Y., by President Cleveland, a post he
held until 1898.

Mr. Storke retired from active work in 1902, but he retained executive offices with
various companies. He is survived by a
widow, Mrs. Mary Beatrice Smith Storke,
three sons and five daughters.

Mr. Storke was active in the promotion of
numerous telephone companies. He or-
ganized the Central New York Telephone
Company at Utica, the Telephone Company of Missouri and the National Telephone Exchange Association. In 1893 he
was appointed Postmaster of Auburn,
N. Y., by President Cleveland, a post he
held until 1898.

Mr. Storke retired from active work in 1902, but he retained executive offices with
various companies. He is survived by a
widow, Mrs. Mary Beatrice Smith Storke,
three sons and five daughters.

Mr. Storke was active in the promotion of
numerous telephone companies. He or-
ganized the Central New York Telephone
Company at Utica, the Telephone Company of Missouri and the National Telephone Exchange Association. In 1893 he
was appointed Postmaster of Auburn,
N. Y., by President Cleveland, a post he
held until 1898.

Mr. Storke retired from active work in 1902, but he retained executive offices with
various companies. He is survived by a
widow, Mrs. Mary Beatrice Smith Storke,
three sons and five daughters.

Mr. Storke was active in the promotion of
numerous telephone companies. He or-
ganized the Central New York Telephone
Company at Utica, the Telephone Company of Missouri and the National Telephone Exchange Association. In 1893 he
was appointed Postmaster of Auburn,
N. Y., by President Cleveland, a post he
held until 1898.

Mr. Storke retired from active work in 1902, but he retained executive offices with
various companies. He is survived by a
widow, Mrs. Mary Beatrice Smith Storke,
three sons and five daughters.

Mr. Storke was active in the promotion of
numerous telephone companies. He or-
ganized the Central New York Telephone
Company at Utica, the Telephone Company of Missouri and the National Telephone Exchange Association. In 1893 he
was appointed Postmaster of Auburn,
N. Y., by President Cleveland, a post he
held until 1898.

Mr. Storke retired from active work in
1902, but he retained executive offices with
various companies. He is survived by a
widow, Mrs. Mary Beatrice Smith Storke,
three sons and five daughters.

Mr. Storke was active in the promotion of
numerous telephone companies. He or-
ganized the Central New York Telephone
Company at Utica, the Telephone Company of Missouri and the National Telephone Exchange Association. In 1893 he
was appointed Postmaster of Auburn,
N. Y., by President Cleveland, a post he
held until 1898.

Mr. Storke retired from active work in
1902, but he retained executive offices with
various companies. He is survived by a
widow, Mrs. Mary Beatrice Smith Storke,
three sons and five daughters.

Mr. Storke was active in the promotion of
numerous telephone companies. He or-
ganized the Central New York Telephone
Company at Utica, the Telephone Company of Missouri and the National Telephone Exchange Association. In 1893 he
was appointed Postmaster of Auburn,
N. Y., by President Cleveland, a post he
held until 1898.

Mr. Storke retired from active work in
1902, but he retained executive offices with
various companies. He is survived by a
widow, Mrs. Mary Beatrice Smith Storke,
three sons and five daughters.

Mr. Storke was active in the promotion of
numerous telephone companies. He or-
ganized the Central New York Telephone
Company at Utica, the Telephone Company of Missouri and the National Telephone Exchange Association. In 1893 he
was appointed Postmaster of Auburn,
N. Y., by President Cleveland, a post he
held until 1898.

Mr. Storke retired from active work in
1902, but he retained executive offices with
various companies. He is survived by a
widow, Mrs. Mary Beatrice Smith Storke,
three sons and five daughters.

Mr. Storke was active in the promotion of
numerous telephone companies. He or-
ganized the Central New York Telephone
Company at Utica, the Telephone Company of Missouri and the National Telephone Exchange Association. In 1893 he
was appointed Postmaster of Auburn,
N. Y., by President Cleveland, a post he
held until 1898.

Mr. Storke retired from active work in
1902, but he retained executive offices with
various companies. He is survived by a
widow, Mrs. Mary Beatrice Smith Storke,
three sons and five daughters.

Mr. Storke was active in the promotion of
numerous telephone companies. He or-
ganized the Central New York Telephone
Company at Utica, the Telephone Company of Missouri and the National Telephone Exchange Association. In 1893 he
was appointed Postmaster of Auburn,
N. Y., by President Cleveland, a post he
held until 1898.

Mr. Storke retired from active work in
1902, but he retained executive offices with
various companies. He is survived by a
widow, Mrs. Mary Beatrice Smith Storke,
three sons and five daughters.

Mr. Storke was active in the promotion of
numerous telephone companies. He or-
ganized the Central New York Telephone
Company at Utica, the Telephone Company of Missouri and the National Telephone Exchange Association. In 1893 he
was appointed Postmaster of Auburn,
N. Y., by President Cleveland, a post he
held until 1898.

Mr. Storke retired from active work in
1902, but he retained executive offices with
various companies. He is survived by a
widow, Mrs. Mary Beatrice Smith Storke,
three sons and five daughters.

HANDCUFFS PUT ON FIGHTING CHINESE

They Resisted Inspectors Who Arrested Them for Entering This Country Illegally.

Handcuffs connected a line of five Solemn Chinese that fled into the office of H. R. Sisson, Chinese Inspector for this division, at No. 17 State street, late last night, where they were taken for a preliminary examination on a charge of illegal entry into the United States. The capture of the men was effected through the co-operation of the employees of a train on the Lehigh Valley Railroad, who sent a telegram to Mr. Sisson.

According to the conductor of the train the Chinese got on at the Suspension Bridge at Niagara Falls and scattered through the cars. They were noticed, however, and their actions aroused suspicion. As soon as Mr. Sisson received the telegram he sent two of his assistants to meet the train at Newark and as soon as it arrived the Chinese attempted to leave it. Both the assistants and trainmen interfered and a scuffle ensued.

There were two Chinese on the station and as soon as they saw their friends in trouble they disappeared.

Another tussle came when the train reached Jersey City, where the Chinese were put in handcuffs and taken to the State street office. There they denied knowledge of each other and said they lived in Pell street, but a few questions showed them to be unfamiliar with the locality. They will be held on Ellis Island until a thorough investigation can be made.

There were two Chinese on the station
and as soon as they saw their friends in
trouble they disappeared.

Another tussle came when the train
reached Jersey City, where the Chinese
were put in handcuffs and taken to the State street office. There they denied
knowledge of each other and said they
lived in Pell street, but a few questions
showed them to be unfamiliar with the
locality. They will be held on Ellis Island until a thorough investigation can
be made.

There were two Chinese on the station
and as soon as they saw their friends in
trouble they disappeared.

Another tussle came when the train
reached Jersey City, where the Chinese
were put in handcuffs and taken to the State street office. There they denied
knowledge of each other and said they
lived in Pell street, but a few questions
showed them to be unfamiliar with the
locality. They will be held on Ellis Island until a thorough investigation can
be made.

There were two Chinese on the station
and as soon as they saw their friends in
trouble they disappeared.

Another tussle came when the train
reached Jersey City, where the Chinese
were put in handcuffs and taken to the State street office. There they denied
knowledge of each other and said they
lived in Pell street, but a few questions
showed them to be unfamiliar with the
locality. They will be held on Ellis Island until a thorough investigation can
be made.

There were two Chinese on the station
and as soon as they saw their friends in
trouble they disappeared.

Another tussle came when the train
reached Jersey City, where the Chinese
were put in handcuffs and taken to the State street office. There they denied
knowledge of each other and said they
lived in Pell street, but a few questions
showed them to be unfamiliar with the
locality. They will be held on Ellis Island until a thorough investigation can
be made.

There were two Chinese on the station
and as soon as they saw their friends in
trouble they disappeared.

Another tussle came when the train
reached Jersey City, where the Chinese
were put in handcuffs and taken to the State street office. There they denied
knowledge of each other and said they
lived in Pell street, but a few questions
showed them to be unfamiliar with the
locality. They will be held on Ellis Island until a thorough investigation can
be made.

There were two Chinese on the station
and as soon as they saw their friends in
trouble they disappeared.

Another tussle came when the train
reached Jersey City, where the Chinese
were put in handcuffs and taken to the State street office. There they denied
knowledge of each other and said they
lived in Pell street, but a few questions
showed them to be unfamiliar with the
locality. They will be held on Ellis Island until a thorough investigation can
be made.

There were two Chinese on the station
and as soon as they saw their friends in
trouble they disappeared.

Another tussle came when the train
reached Jersey City, where the Chinese
were put in handcuffs and taken to the State street office. There they denied
knowledge of each other and said they
lived in Pell street, but a few questions
showed them to be unfamiliar with the
locality. They will be held on Ellis Island until a thorough investigation can
be made.

There were two Chinese on the station
and as soon as they saw their friends in
trouble they disappeared.

Another tussle came when the train
reached Jersey City, where the Chinese
were put in handcuffs and taken to the State street office. There they denied
knowledge of each other and said they
lived in Pell street, but a few questions
showed them to be unfamiliar with the
locality. They will be held on Ellis Island until a thorough investigation can
be made.

There were two Chinese on the station
and as soon as they saw their friends in
trouble they disappeared.

Another tussle came when the train
reached Jersey City, where the Chinese
were put in handcuffs and taken to the State street office. There they denied
knowledge of each other and said they
lived in Pell street, but a few questions
showed them to be unfamiliar with the
locality. They will be held on Ellis Island until a thorough investigation can
be made.

There were two Chinese on the station
and as soon as they saw their friends in
trouble they disappeared.

Another tussle came when the train
reached Jersey City, where the Chinese
were put in handcuffs and taken to the State street office. There they denied
knowledge of each other and said they
lived in Pell street, but a few questions
showed them to be unfamiliar with the
locality. They will be held on Ellis Island until a thorough investigation can
be made.

There were two Chinese on the station
and as soon as they saw their friends in
trouble they disappeared.